

A LONG TALK

ABOUT THE UNCOMFORTABLE TRUTH

Greetings,

I hope this finds you and yours in good health. My name is Kyle Williams, and I am the creator of A Long Talk About The Uncomfortable Truth, an anti-racism empowerment experience. You are receiving this letter because someone chose you as a potential participant in a group for our upcoming virtual workshop session.

The purpose of this work is to end racism and dismantle systemic oppression in America by energizing, activating, and empowering allies in the pursuit of our shared purpose. We will do this by engaging in an ongoing conversation focused on truth, understanding, and problem solving, leading to individual and cooperative activism. In essence, the experience is an honest conversation about how we can all do more than just being personally “not racist.”

We have conducted this experience with 1600+ people over the last 13 months and have received a tremendous amount of positive feedback. We are hosting a special conversation with Momentum Center on the following dates below, and if you are reading this, someone thought enough of you to invite you to join us! We are looking for a group of participants to join us on Zoom for an interactive conversational experience. The schedule for the calls is as follows:

- September 27, 28, and 29, 2021

Join us by clicking on the session dates above to be directed to the Google Classroom. There is a requirement of completing a selected pre-work assignment to qualify for a “seat at the table”. If you are interested in participating please be sure to complete the pre-registration survey form that you will find linked in the pre work and then secure your spot by getting started from there.

You can learn more about us by visiting www.alongtalk.com. If you have any questions, feel free to reach us at info@alongtalk.com. Thank you.

Best,

Kyle

PS. Troubleshooting tip: If you get an account error message while registering, it's because Google Classroom DOES NOT play well with custom email domains. If you are using a work or school account, we suggest that you try using a personal email account to register instead.
