

NEWS REVIEW

october '21 newsletter digest | ri coalition to end homelessness

rihomeless

rihomeless.org

Coalition News: New Staff at CES

Marisol Acevedo (she/her) Comes with over 20 years of customer service experience as a personal business owner and a FEMA call center representative an associates in criminal justice. She is fluent in Spanish and English, her biggest motivation are her sons. She is a welcomed addition to the CES Help Center!

If you are a Spanish language speaker, we welcome you to apply for our open positions with CES here or forward this opportunity to someone you know.

COLLABORATION

Read about We Share Hope, the nonprofit organization that operates Hope Market in Rumford, and the Rhode Island Coalition to End Homelessness' new partnership called the Hotel Motel Empowerment Program in the Providence Journal. We collaborate to serve people living in four hotels statewide due to homelessness with weekly food deliveries.

Learn more about We Share Hope here.

National HoUSed Campaign Call for Universal, Stable, and Affordable Housing with Kristina Contreras Fox

Senior Policy Analyst Kristina Contreras Fox gives a field update on the state of safe, stable, and most importantly, affordable housing in Rhode Island during the hoUSed campaign call earlier last month hosted by the National Low Income Housing Coalition.

Click here to hear Contreras Fox speak on affordable housing, homelessness and our role in Providence's Guaranteed Income pilot program.

JUST THE HEADLINES

Boston Globe: Advocates call on R.I. to use \$500m of federal dollars on housing

Uprise RI: Here's what's in Governor Dan McKee's proposal for American Rescue Plan Act funds

DS News: Congressional Push to Fund Housing in Build Back Better Act

Providence Journal: Opinion: ARPA funds can help to solve RI's housing crisis